SOCIAL EVENTS AT THE HOT SPRINGS

Miss Pole's Marriage Creates
Wide Interest—Richmond Visitors.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HOT SPRINGS, VA., September 23.—

The social event of the week was the marriage of Miss Daisy Pole, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Pole, to Mr. Thomas A. Sterrett, Jr., at the home of the bride on Wednesday evening. It was a most delightful affair, attended by only relatives and intimate friends of the family, but from far and near came presents, making an elaborate display. The young people will make their future home at Bushy Run Springs, where the old homestead recently remodeled, is owned by Dr. Pole.

On Thursday a jolly wedding breakfast was given by Mr. Tate Sterrett, uncle of the bridegroom, at Fossilfern Farm, eight miles from here.

Mrs. Barton Grundy, of Richmond, spent a week at the Homestead Hotel after the season closed at White Sulphur Springs. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Grundy was one of the best bridge whist players who has been here this year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. G. Leigh, Jr., and children are here from Richmond, and Mrs. Leigh is considered one of the prettiest of the young married women here.

Mr. F. W. Hanewinkel is paying this resort one of his semi-annual visits. He has found numerous friends, as usual, and is on the golf links every day. The weather is perfect for outdoor life.

Mr. John Currie and Mr. P. A. Davenport are two of the most popular men here, and are invited to a dinner party or luncheon every day. Among the affairs they have attended are: Luncheon at Fossilfern Farm, given by Dr. Carl N. Brandt; luncheon at Healing Springs, given by Mrs. Albert B. Lambert, of St. Louis; dinner at the Homestead, given by Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Sterrett; card party, given by Mrs. Albert B. Lambert, and ever so many other social events.

Miss Gray Morehead is a very attractive young woman here, who has been spending the summer at White Sulphur Springs, where she was a great belle. She is a granddaughter of the late Governor Morehead, of North Carolina, but has been making her home in New York for several years, with her parents. She is a sister of Mrs. Frank McNamee, of South Carolina, whose husband bought a piece of land for building a year ago, but has done nothing so far toward starting a house.

The beautifully located new home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton has just been completed, three miles from the hotel, on the Warm Springs Road, and it is one of the show places of the resort now. Mrs. Gunton was formerly Mrs. Rebecca Lowe, of Atlanta, and has just been entertaining her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Lowe, who now live in New York. Some one recently made an unflattering statement here to the effect that there are 100,000 Southern people living in New York city.

Mr. George Cole Scott, of Richmond, will be married on the 27th to Miss Hilthred Dunn, of this place, and the event is looked forward to with considerable interest, especially as the bride is so very young. Mrs. Fred Scott and Miss Scott have been here since July.

Mrs. Preston Nash, of Richmond, has been giving some very successful entertainments in this section for the benefit of a mission church at Rockledge, Fla. She has been much complimented on her ability to organize and carry out a good program with local talent at short notice. The last concert was held at the Warm Springs Hotel Friday night (22d).

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., is expected here on the first of October.

Others coming between now and October 15th are Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Leeds, Mrs. George J. Gould, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and others. Now here are Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Iselin, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Livingston Beckman, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer, Mrs. Philip Lydig and Mr. Anthony J. Drexel.

HEREFORD CATTLE.

Breeders to Meet in Lynchburg in October.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BERRYVILLE, VA., September 23.—Secretary Edward G. Butler, of the Virginia Hereford Breeders' Association, has issued official announcement of the second annual meeting of the association, which will be held in the Carroll Hotel, Lynchburg, Va., beginning on Thursday, October 5th, at 3 P. M.

The association has done and is doing great good in the promotion and advancement of Hereford interests in Virginia.

From all indications the coming session will be largely attended, not only by members of the Virginia Association, but by prominent cattlemen from other States who desire to keep in close touch with Virginia's fine cattle.

PEOPLE IN NELSON

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NOTICE, NELSON CO., VA., Sept. 23.—Miss Mary Nelson, of Loudoun county, is the guest of the Misses Scruggs here.

Miss Rena Kidd is now enjoying a pleasant visit to her uncle, Mr. Wash Crittenden, of Afton.

Miss Minnie Dolen left on last Saturday for Lynchburg to visit her cousin, Mrs. Slaughter.

Mr. Jones Turner has been absent since Saturday evening on a visit to relatives in Appomattox.

Misses Gertrude and Corinne Ligon will spend the winter in Richmond, where they will attend school.

Misses Mable Johnson and Miss Glenna Scruggs are on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hughes are visiting friends here. They expect to make this their home in the near future.

Little Miss Corinne and Master Cary Roberts have just gotten over scarlet fever.

Miss Alice Callaway will return to her school in King William on the 2d of October, she having been detained by typhoid fever.

Mrs. Eldridge Robertson and two children have been the guests of her aunt, Mrs. H. L. Robertson, here this week.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will give a basket picnic to the veterans at the Confederate monument near Parity Mills, Tuesday, October 3d.

Coming Weddings.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SOUTH BOSTON, VA., Sept. 23.—A wedding of unusual interest will be that of Miss Frances Craddock Owen to Dr. Emmett White Shackelford. The marriage will be celebrated at "Hyco Heights," near Dennistown, the lovely home of the bride-elect, Wednesday, October 11th, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. L. B. Johnston, of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. B. M. Beckham, of the Methodist Church, both of this place, will be the celebrants.

The bride-elect is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Owen, and is widely known and deservedly popular, while the groom-to-be, who was a former resident of South Boston, but now of Durham, N. C., is a successful young dentist, and has a host of friends. They will reside in Durham.

GOLDEN DAYS AT CROCKETT'S

The Autumn Colony Makes a Very Good Showing.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S BALL

No Lack of Entertainments for the Home-Like Crowd.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CROCKETT SPRINGS, VA., Sept. 23.—Though the bright, golden September days are nearly past, numerous guests are still at Crockett's, where they will probably remain for weeks to come. The outlook is so promising that the season will be continued through the month of October, and the last of the season bids fair to be the best.

The forest trees are hurriedly donning their autumn robes of flaming scarlet and gold, showering down thousands of yellow leaves, that fall like amber tears upon the fact of Mother Earth. Nature is so entrancingly beautiful, the atmosphere so exhilarating, and Crockett's so entrancingly attractive, it is difficult for the crowd to realize the rapid passing of time and the fact that autumn will soon be gone. Still they linger on, while new guests are arriving and the enjoyment continues unabated.

The guests seem to be trying to get the most out of the weeks that remain, and appreciate more than ever the excellent service, the good fare, the careful management, the life-giving water, the scenic features of this delightful resort. Tiding, driving, golfing, bowling, cards and other games, occupy every hour of the day, and the night is enlivened with music and dancing, every one joining in the fun. The water, the walks, the lancers and the reel. The shady corners of the verandahs are always filled with select gatherings of congenial spirits grouped about tables, engaged in games of euchre, whist and the favorite bridge. At night these corners of the game exchange the verandahs for the lighted corridors of the hotel and continue their favorite sport till a late hour.

The ball of Saturday night was unusually attractive. The gorgeous costumes of the ladies flashing under the brilliant lights, the graceful movements of the dancers and the rhythmic beat of their feet as they kept time to the tuneful strains of the violins and guitars were inspiring to even the most staid spectators. Even the most precise felt inclined to get up and "shake his foot" with the rest.

One of the most interesting recent affairs was the bowling tournament, in which the Virginia and Louisiana contingents contended for the honor of State championship. The beauty and gallantry of fair New Orleans were well represented, but though the Southerners strove long and well, it was rather a case of "Ole Virginia never tire," and the Virginians bore off the palm.

On Tuesday the young people had a taffy party. It is needless to say that more "taffy" was bundled from lip to lip than was ever before. It was rather a case of "Ole Virginia never tire," and the girls that pulled the whitest candy felt as proud as Wellington when he beat the French.

A party of the romantically inclined planned a moonlight picnic for Tuesday night, and, when the dance was over, repaired to the rustic bridge that spans the Roanoke River, about half a mile beyond the hotel. The moonlight lay in a long track of dazzling brightness upon the houses, and the water, broken by myriads of diamond sparkles, as the waves eddied and curled over their rocky bed, the clustering trees standing straight and dark along the river banks, their blackness relieved only by the adventurous moonbeams that drifted through the interstices of the overhanging boughs. Standing hand in hand, those poetic souls paid their tribute to nature, and pledged eternal fealty to one another.

One of the most enjoyable features of the week was the plan given by Miss Wilkinson, of Mississippi, Miss Wilkinson is a handsome and most attractive girl, highly accomplished, and a fine musician. Among the most pleasing of her numbers on this occasion was the selection of "The Swanee River," charmingly rendered by this gifted young artist. Though the season is so far advanced, the commodious hotel is still comfortably filled, and there is a steady influx of visitors who will remain through October and perhaps longer; for at Crockett's this is considered the most delightful portion of the year. Among the newcomers are Misses Gussie Bowles, of Salem, Va., and Emily Campbell, of Roanoke, two lovely and charming young girls who are visiting Miss Kathleen Thomas, at her pretty cottage, Beechwood.

The latest arrivals are Mrs. J. P. Seabrook, Tennessee; Mrs. P. K. Lytle, York; Misses Emily and Mary Lee, Port by, Mississippi; Miss Mabel Parrott, Columbus, Ohio; Mr. John P. Freed, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. W. H. Barnwell, South Carolina; Miss Elizabeth L. Elmore, Pennsylvania; Mr. R. V. Thomas, Virginia; Dr. J. M. Dabney, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. J. M. Marston and son, Mississippi; Mr. Walter T. Santos, G. Barnwell, Roanoke; S. M. Rice and Norfolk, M. E. P. Webb, Mobile; George G. Barnwell, Roanoke; E. M. Rice and Norfolk; D. R. Cressy, Richmond, Va.
